

| 2010 |

RESERVE MAGNUM

WALLA WALLA VALLEY

VINEYARDS IN THIS WINE

*Loess
Mill Creek Upland
Seven Hills
Leonetti Old Block*

AGING PROFILE

Aged 23 months in new and neutral French oak barrels and 8 years in bottle

BLENDING DETAIL

*52% Cabernet Sauvignon
30% Merlot
9% Cabernet Franc
9% Malbec*

ALCOHOL PERCENTAGE

14.4%

TASTING LOG

LEONETTI

WINEMAKER NOTES

WHEN WE BOTTLED THE 2010 Reserve, I wrote that it might be the finest effort of my career. The vintage, though incredibly low yielding, was extraordinary. Now a decade later, I believe it still may be our finest effort yet. The nose is still incredibly youthful and floral. The palate has softened a bit over the last decade and is now seamless with a hidden power to it that is magical. The purity of fruit has not vanished and is as attractive as it was upon release. The length and finish of the wine are perhaps the most perfect attribute – creamy and enduring, the flavor persists in your mouth long after you have tasted it. The wine makes me smile, and I am proud of my team for crafting it with me. We are honored to have achieved a perfect 100-point score for this wine, awarded by The Wine Advocate.

Chris Figgins

PRESIDENT & WINEMAKING DIRECTOR
FIGGINS FAMILY WINE ESTATES