2021 LOESS WALLA WALLA VALLEY

Extremely dark in the glass, with a shy nose upon opening. The aromatics reveal themselves gently with dark cherry, cranberry, cassis, ground coffee, and hints of cedar, lavender, and orange peel with more time in the glass. On the palate are notes of warm berry cobbler full of baking spices. Well-structured tannins frame a rich and silky texture and sultry finish.

HOLY ROLLER

WALLA WALLA VALLEY

The extremely dark color of this wine complements the mysteriously sexy nose of purple florals, rocky ocean shore, wild mushrooms, and candied fruits. The palate opens with mouth-coating, plush, dark cherry and cocoa. Super dense and smooth through the midpalate with a lingering freshness on the finish.

SERRA PEDACE

Intriguingly saturated color. The wine immediately opens with an explosive nose of ever-so-slightly dried herbs and flowers, marionberry crisp, caramel, white pepper, and a sensory note pulled from deep within my memory bank of machine oil on a turning lathe. On the palate, there are delightful notes of blackberries, raspberries, creamy vanilla custard, dark chocolate, and a lifting saline component. Concentrated, integrated, fresh and rich. The wine closes with a persistence of brawny power.
